OREGONIANS FOR ALTERNATIVES TO THE DEATH PENALTY

Becky O’Neil McBryer is the Director of Community Programs at St. Andre Bessette Catholic Church in Downtown Portland. She is alumni of All Saints School, Central Catholic High School, and Bellarmine University. In 2006, Becky’s Mother, Timmie O’Neil, and Stepfather, Craig Stumpf, were brutally murdered at the hands of her youngest brother, Joseph. Her family was thrust into the judicial system as Clackamas County prosecutors argued for the death penalty. Becky’s Catholic faith and journey of hope led her to the abolition movement. She is a member of Murder Victims Families for Reconciliation and serves on the Board of Directors of Oregonians for Alternatives to the Death Penalty.

“We are called to show mercy because mercy has first been shown to us.” Pope Francis
